Disclosing Personal Information

We attach great importance to the protection of your privacy and personal data. We collect, use and disclose your personal information only with your consent, unless required or permitted by applicable laws. You can give us your consent orally or in writing. In the event that you do not agree to provide us with the personal information requested, we will be able, depending on the situation, to explain to you the impact of a refusal.

We retain your personal information for as long as we use it to carry out our activities. We then keep them according to the period defined in the Society's retention schedule and approved by Bibliothèque et Archives nationaux du Québec. After this period has expired, the information is destroyed or anonymized (both in computer records and paper documentation).

We collect personal data, using a form, at the time of temporary or long-term accreditation:

Use of personal data

We only use your personal data for the purposes for which it was collected, unless you give us your consent or we are required by law to do so. The law allows us to use your personal information without your consent in certain situations, including when the purposes of its use are compatible with those for which consent was originally given or when a court orders us to do so.

We may use your personal data to:

ensure port security (requirement of the port security plan).

We take appropriate security measures to protect your personal data against unauthorized access, disclosure or loss. We limit access to your personal data to those who need access to perform their job functions. We train our staff on personal data protection practices and ensure that they comply with this privacy policy.

Right of access and rectification

Upon written request from you, addressed to the person responsible for access to documents and the protection of personal information (contact details are available under the Join us section of our website), we can give you access to the personal information we are holding under your name. We may also indicate for what purposes we used them and whether we disclosed them to a third party. At any time, if you believe that we hold personal information that is inaccurate, incomplete or out of date, you can request that we make changes.

The law provides under certain circumstances, restrictions for the exercise of these rights. In such a case, we will inform you when submitting your request. You can also revoke your consent at any time.

Transparency

We disclose our personal data protection practices transparently, including by providing this privacy policy. We provide you with access to your personal data, as well as the ability to correct or delete it if necessary.

Responsibility

We are responsible for protecting your personal data that we collect, use and store. We undertake to respond quickly and efficiently to any requests for information or complaints concerning the protection of your personal data.

Consent

I understand the purpose for disclosing this personal information to the person noted above. I understand that I can refuse to sign this consent form.
